

Breeda Herlihy

I'm a librarian with over 20 years of experience working in different academic and hospital libraries including the National Maritime College of Ireland, UCC and the Mercy University Hospital. I have worked as a solo librarian and manager of CORA, the UCC institutional repository and am currently Quality and Planning Coordinator at UCC Library. My area of interest is around the support that libraries can provide to researchers.

My primary degree was in Plant and Microbial Biotechnology from UCC followed later by a Postgraduate Diploma in Library and Information Studies from UCD. I've been part of various library committees at different times including the LIR group, HSLG, CONUL Research Group and Cork Healthcare Librarians Group. I really enjoy the supportive culture of library professional groups.

I hope my experience from working in a variety of roles and libraries will provide support to others working in libraries and planning their paths in the library profession.
